

Considering labiaplasty?

Here are some questions you should ask your plastic surgeon.

- Am I a good candidate for labiaplasty?
- How many labiaplasty procedures have you performed and how often do you do them?
- Are you board-certified and by what medical board? If so, how long have you been certified?
- Do you have before-and-after pictures of women who have had labiaplasty?
- Can I speak to one of your former labiaplasty patients?
- What are the benefits of labiaplasty for me?
- What guidelines should I follow prior to my labiaplasty?
- Can you help me quit smoking before my labiaplasty?
- What type of instrument will you be using to trim my labia?
- Does a labiaplasty hurt?
- How much downtime is there after labiaplasty?
- Will the labiaplasty procedure enhance sexual function?
- Are there any other surgeries that can be done with labiaplasty to improve the aesthetic and functional results?
- How long after labiaplasty must I wait to have intercourse again?
- Will there be scars from my labiaplasty?
- When will the stitches from the labiaplasty typically dissolve?
- How much will my labiaplasty cost?
- Will insurance cover the cost of my labiaplasty?
- Will intercourse be painful the first time after labiaplasty?
- What if I am unhappy with the results?

For more information on plastic surgery, visit YourPlasticSurgeryGuide.com